

Career Coach AI Volunteer Event:

Join Global Mentorship Initiative (GMI) for a virtual AI-focused volunteer event where you can learn more about GMI's mission and contribute your career insights to help GMI students accelerate their job search.

As a participant, you'll help train GMI's Career Coach AI, an AI-powered career guidance tool that provides students with personalized job search advice. During the event, you'll respond to prompts based on real student questions related to the first two stages of the job search process:

1. Researching and preparing for job opportunities
2. Networking to build professional connections

This volunteer activity will be facilitated through a custom Copilot developed by GMI. The Copilot will prompt you to reflect on your professional journey and share your keys to career success with young professionals. We encourage participants to come prepared with advice or digital resources that could assist students in the early stages of their job search.

By harnessing the power of AI, your contributions will be leveraged at scale by GMI students as they begin their professional careers. This 60-minute, non-technical event requires no prior AI experience. Volunteers will be given access to GMI's Copilot during the event, which will guide them through the activity.

Your participation is essential to helping GMI build this valuable resource for our students. Volunteers employed at organizations with a volunteer hour matching policy are encouraged to log their volunteer hours.

Suggested Agenda:

60-minute virtual volunteer experience:

- About GMI – 7 minutes
- GMI's AI model for helping students get a job – 7 minutes
- AI volunteer exercise – 35 minutes
 - Live mentor and student experiences – 10 minutes
 - Check-in – questions about today's exercise – 5 minutes
 - How to log your volunteer time – 2 minutes
 - FAQ and invitation to be a mentor – 10 minutes
- Final closing comments by the meeting host – 5 minutes

Submit a Booking Request

Book Now

For Questions, please contact GMI at: max.springer@globalmentorship.org